March Mulch Madness!

Founders Message

Spring time is approaching and we want to encourage our customers to call on their Account Managers to assist with a proactive enhancement strategy to protect your landscape investment and curb appeal of your property.

Your Account Managers are carefully evaluating the needs of your property on several levels, from plant health and safety issues to aesthetics and function. They can propose a plan for correcting hazards, resolving problems and providing repairs and embellishments.

We hope you are enjoying the changing seasons,

John and Denise Fitzgerald
Landesign C&M, Founders

March Mulch Madness:

Mulch has a great impact on enhancing the appearance of landscapes. There are many benefits to maintaining a sufficient layer of mulch:

- Reduces evaporation from soil surface, cutting water use by 25-50%
- Controls weeds, which rob soil moisture
- Moderates soil temperature
- Controls erosion
- Gives a finished look, improving aesthetic quality
- Organic mulch promotes soil microorganism activity, improving soil tilth overall and helps to lessen soil compaction

Lack of mulch reduces weed control and increases moss build-up as well as increasing evaporative water loss during summer. In addition, rebarking is the simplest way to make your property look fresher and brighter and ensures mulch will be consistently effective.

We recommend rebarking every other year at the end of winter or early spring after we finish our pruning and pre-emergence application. There are many different types of mulch available. We are happy to discuss the benefits of mulch and types available for your property to prepare for the Spring season!

Celebrating Enrique's 3 Year Anniversary

Enrique joined the Landesign team in November 2013 as a Maintenance Crew Leader. He is an excellent addition to the Landesign team, and is now a Field Supervisor for the maintenance division. He says, "... I've worked many places, and I really enjoy working with the Landesign team".

During his free time, Enrique enjoys gardening, spending time with his sons, and landscaping. Before joining Landesign, he worked building golf courses with heavy equipment - including Windsor Golf Club and Fountain Grove Country Club.

We are thankful for Enrique and the skills he brings to the maintenance division, and look forward to many more years together!
