OCTOBER 2017

Founders' Message

Our hearts go out to all those impacted by the devastating North Bay fires, and we extend our condolences to everyone who has experienced a loss. Landesign is based in Santa Rosa, where our local community has been badly impacted by the wildfires over the last several days. We are grateful that all our employees and their families are safe, but we are sad to report that a few of our team members have lost their homes. Landesign is committed to doing all we can to support our staff and community through this challenging time.

Our operations were obstructed over the last several days due to staff availability, site access, and safe working conditions, but our team is currently up and running and dedicated to our customers' needs. As site access and air quality improves, our Account Managers will schedule any needed site cleanups.

We want to express our gratitude to all the first responders, firefighters, police officers, and volunteers for coming together to save our beloved community.

Sincerely,

John and Denise Fitzgerald
Landesign C&M, Founders

Adding Fall Color to Your Landscaping

It's hard to believe, but summer has come and gone and we are well into the fall season! Fall brings cool nights and gorgeous colors to Sonoma, Marin, and Napa County. With this change in weather and energy, this is the perfect time to enhance your curb appeal with bold, eye-catching flowers to bring attention to your entry way and business. A variety of winter annuals are available, and Landesign can help select the best color and variety for your property.

When selecting flowers or plants for winter, it is important to do a little bit of research to select a variety that will hold up through the colder seasons. A few sturdy winter flower choices are: Pansy, Chinese Pink (Dianthus), Cyclamen, Primrose, and Snapdragon.

If you're looking to enhance your landscaping this fall, we're here to help! Our team of landscape specialists would love the opportunity to discuss the options for your property. Accurate Budget Planning is Key to a Beautiful Landscape

Landscaping is more than keeping your grass cut to the proper length on your property; proper landscaping can help provide color and life, making your space more welcoming and professional for your clientele and employees. With this in mind, it is important to carefully budget and invest into your landscaping year-round to keep your property looking its very best.

Accurate budget planning is a key to the success of any business. We would like to offer our assistance by helping you prioritize your landscape needs. Let us help you plan how you can reduce your costs, while maintaining your landscape investment and curb appeal.
